Tell me, which US President has ever been responsible for the breakout of world peace, hmm? or for that matter, which World Leader? All, without exception, speak pretty words and most show sincere intentions. But the majority are simply sociopaths with an agenda:

we just have to make sure everybody recognises this and simply stop voting them in, over and over again ...

Sorry SignReader! There are several places where you can download this, so if this one doesn't work either, just do a search and take your pick ...

<http://www.archive.org/details/PoliticalPonerology>

You'll find plenty there to chew on, although simply reading your fave Machiavelli says about the same things. The difference here is that this is a psychological profile of most of the world's leaders and reasons behind their inhumane, unconscionable, hypocrisy.

My comment about not voting them in was a bit flippant, you're right, voting or not voting produces the same results and that's the scam. Politics needs to be banished!

(By the way SR, what's your signature trying to say? ... not quite understandable in Spanish ...)
